

Steps to Making an iMovie

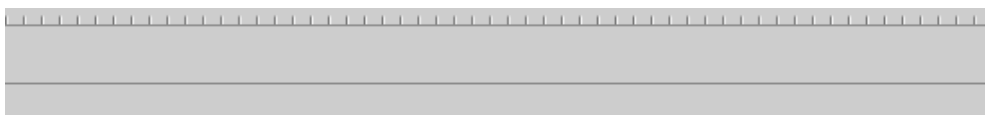

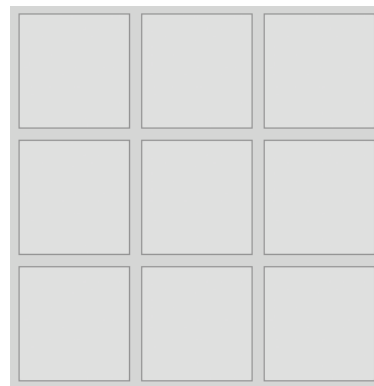

- use a firewire cable to connect the camera to the computer.
- Click iMovie on the Launcher.
- Go to File and New Project.
- Click over to the Camera (from scissors).

- Click the Import button.

- Once the clips are in iMovie, drag the clips you want to use to the bottom row for editing.

- To edit your iMovie, you must switch the camera back to the scissors.

- You must also switch the clips from Clips to Time.

- To cut the film, move the Playhead to where you want the cut to be, and then push the apple key and "T" to cut. When you make two cuts and you don't want what is between the cuts, you can highlight that part and hit apple "X" or delete to delete that part.
 - Don't worry, if you make a mistake, you can hit Edit Undo.

To use Effects, Titles, Transitions and Audio, you must click on the appropriate button on the right side tool bar. These allow you to use various tools and effects to make your iMovie special. Just drag them to where you want them in the movie.
